Jazz band makes up concert this month

June 3, 2013— This month, Deltona music lovers get two doses of the popular Music in the Amphitheater series as the Brian Petras Trio, an established classical jazz trio from the Orlando area, play their May 11 show that was cancelled because of the weather. The Brian Petras Trio will take to the stage of the Deltona Amphitheater, 2150 Eustace Ave, from 7 to 9 p.m., June 15.

The Brian Petras Jazz trio is a hard swinging straight ahead jazz group that consists of Brian Petras on piano, Dave Kazyk on bass and Dru Betts on drums. The band has performed all over the Central Florida area in a variety of venues. They were the featured house band at club Redlight Redlight from 2008 to 2012. They have also performed at the White Wolf Cafe, Vines Wine Bar and Grill, Timpanos, as well as The Hyatt Grand Cypress Hotel in Walt Disney World. The trio plays jazz standards, bebop, blues, as well as jazz/rock and funk. Listeners of the trio will hear their Duke Ellington and Charlie Parker, but will also find some Michael Jackson and Pink Floyd mixed in as well.

Admission to the Music in the Amphitheater series is always free. Concessions are available. No outside food and drink is permitted.

Future Music in the Amphitheater performers will include Simulcast (August), Caribbean Crew (September) and Then2Now (October). For information on the Music in the Amphitheater series, call the City's Parks & Recreation Department, (386) 878-8900.
