Deltona's diversity showcased at Annual Festival of Nations

Sept. 8, 2016—Deltona, likely Volusia County's most diverse community, will celebrate the cultures that make up the City, at the second annual Festival of Nations. On Sept. 24, residents and visitors will gather at the Dewey O. Boster Sports Complex, 1200 Saxon Blvd., for a day of free, non-stop music, dance and food from around the globe.

The event is scheduled from noon to 6 p.m. Deltona Parks & Recreation staff are working on the performance lineup. If you are involved in an organization that represents a country through dance, performance, craft or other art form, the City would love for you to be involved in Deltona's Festival of Nations. Please contact Marlene Brown, mbrown@deltonafl.gov, (386) 878-8900 on or before Sept. 16. Vendors who wish to sell international food and/or arts and crafts may apply online for a space at the event. The cost is $25 and the deadline is Sept. 16.
